

Our Lady of the Snows School

We are having a Halloween Party, today. The children are to bring their costumes to school and will change into them at 12:30. We will join the older students and march around the school grounds at 1:00. After the parade, we will return to the classroom for songs, finger plays, and treats. If you are giving out treats to the children, please send them to school by Monday morning so those treats may be distributed into the preschoolers' treat bags. Parents are welcome to attend.

This Friday we are having Parent-Teacher Conferences. We do our best to stay with the posted schedule, but we sometimes run over. Conferences are only 10 minutes, and those minutes pass quickly. Let us know if you have a problem with the scheduling and need more time for discussion.

The children will attend the Scholastic Book Fair this Wednesday. The book fair will end on Friday.

This week we will continue our study of Spiders and begin learning about bats.

Reminder:

All children are to have a full change of clothing kept at school in case of an emergency. This includes underwear and clothing. Please check that they have the appropriate clothing for the cooler weather.
